Senators Stormily Protest Criticism of Revision Bill Wires.

WASHINGTON, March 30 .- (AP) President Roosevelt's charge that unnamed persons tried to "purchase" defeat of his government reorganization bill by sending a flood of telegrams to senators stirred up a storm of protest today from senate opponents of the measure.

Senator Johnson, Republican California, asserted the President had "reflected" on all who voted against the bill.

"This shows on the part of the President a complex-a deep disrespect of the senate," he shouted. "It justifies every single word said here against the bill."

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, joined in the criticism of Mr. Roosevelt's remark.

Senator Lewis, Democrat, Illinoi hastened to say he could not tatorship were "made out of the conceive the President meant what some senators believed he meant.

Every precinct in Atlanta rolled up majorities for the repeal plan while in the county only a few districts, these confined almost to the entirely rural sections, showed majorities against liquor.

Other Counties Vote Repeal. As Fulton voted for the plan, the voters of Lowndes and Candler counties also joined in giving their approval to the legalization of liquor. Special elections were held in those counties yesterday. In Lowndes county, where Valdosta is the county seat, the vote was 982 to 332. In Candler county, where Metter is the county seat, the vote was 222 to 21.

Revenue Commissioner T. Grady Head announced that he would prepare for the asuance of liquor wholesale and retail licenses in 41 Fulton county in 15 days, which would make liquor legal in At-103 lanta two weeks from today. Under the law 15 days must elapse before the date of the election to

My Dear — Many thanks for your letter telling me that you are concerned over the charges in several newspapers that the reorganization bill, now before the congress, would make me a dictator.

1-As you well know, I am as much opposed to an American dictatorship as you are, for three simple reasons:

(a) I have no inclination to be a dictator. (b) I have none of the qualificutions which would make me a successful dictator. (c) I have too much historical background and too much knowledge of existing dictatorships to make me desire any form of dictatorship for a democracy like the United States of America. -The reorganization bill now before the congress is the culmi-nation of an effort starting over 40 years ago to make the business end—i. e. the executive branch of the federal govern-ment more business-like and efficient. Seven or eight of my immediate predecessors in presidency have recommended similar reorganization meas-

There are two methods of effecting a business-like reorgan-ization. It can be done by complex and detailed legislation by the congress going into every one of the hundreds of bureaus in the executive department and other agencies.

Or it can be done by giving to the President as chief executive authority to make certain adjustments and reorganizations by executive order, subject to overriding of these executive orders by the congress itself.

But there are two cogent reasons why the bill should go through as it now is drawn. The first is the constitutional question involved in the passage of a concurrent resolution, which is only an expression of congres-sional sentiment. Such a resolution cannot repeal executive action taken in pursuance of a law.

The second is the very remote possibility that some legislative situation might possibly arise in the future where the President would feel obligated to veto a joint resolution of the congress and properly require a twothirds vote to override his veto. I repeat that I visualize no such possibility between now and 1940, when the authority given is to end. Thus you will see that charges of dictatorship are made out of

- ROOSEVELT PRAISE OF RIVERS IS HELD SENATE RACE HINT

President's 'Pat on Back' at Gainesville May Presage George Opposition.

By W. F. CALDWELL, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Georgia Democrats are wondering if President Roosevelt's "pat on the back" at Gainesville Governor Rivers in the race for the senatorial nomination against Senator Walter F. George.

There has been much comment since the President, in dedicating last week the rebuilt business center of Gainesville, departed from his text to commend the Georgia Governor but said nothing about the senior senator who came from Washington to introduce him.

Senator George has opposed several Roosevelt measures, cluding reorganization of the supreme court, the government departmental reorganization bill and the wage-hour bill which Roosevelt praised in his Gainesville

Nix Might Enter.

There is talk that Abit Nix, of Athens, may enter the senate race should Rivers decide to run for reelection as governor. Nix is well known throughout the state and was runner-up to Talmadge in the 1932 campaign for governor.

The Georgia constitution prohibits Talmadge from running for governor until 1940. This provision makes a man who has served two terms as governor ineligible for re-election until four years have intervened.

There has been speculation that Mrs. Eugene Talmadge might run for governor this year. Talmadge said recently there would not be two Talmadges running for office this year. This comment followed reports that he would run for the senate and Mrs. Talmadge for gov-

Farm Women Urged to Find Hobby for More Joyful Life.

Bad food and bad cooking have more to do with causing divorce than anything else, Mrs. Julia Peterkin, South Carolina farmerauthoress, told the rural-urban women's conference at its final session here yesterday.

Is This the Reason You Are Constipated?

If you're wondering why your bowels don't work right—stop and think about what you eat. Bread, meat, eggs and potatoes. All good nourishing foods—but all concentrated, lacking in "bulk." And you need "bulk."! Some food that forms a soft, spongy mass in the bowels—helps them move.

If it's this lack of "bulk" that's causing your constination.

If it's this lack of "bulk" that's causting your constipation, Kellogg's All-Bran is just what you need. It soaks up water and softens like a sponge. And this soft mass helps your bowels move. In addition, All-Bran gives you Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B. Eat this crisp crunchy cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and enjoy happier days. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Text of Roosevelt's

Columbus Speech

(This referred to Mayor L. C. Wilson, a former railroad conductor.)

This is not my first visit by any means and it is not going to be my last.

As you know, there has been an association dating back about 110 years between Warm Springs and Columbus. I won't suggest that Warm Springs is as big or as important as Columbus, but the old army engineers who came here about 110 years ago to lay out these wonderful streets of Columbus spent the night in Warm Springs on the way and from that time on people from Columbus have made Warm Springs in large part what it is today, and we are very, very grateful to you for all that you have done to help us.

I am glad to come back after a few years, glad to see the fine progress that has been made in this city, in this county, in this part of Georgia, and, I think, all through this state because, as I think back 15 or 20 years, it looks to me as if on every hand we can see the improvement in the processes of living in the state of Georgia. That progress is going to keep on in the days to come if you and I have anything to do if you are I have anything to do with it. And now, my friends, I have to go and see how the army is get-ting on, but I will be back again with you, I hope very soon.

The President showed special interest in a battalion of ten-ton and 14-ton tanks standing stationary across the field beside the mounted and foot troops.

The visit, first to Fort Benning since he entered the White House, was climaxed by an inspection of more than 6.000 officers and men from every mobile branch of the army pread out on Gordon field.
Instead of reviewing marching troops, he drove slowly past the khaki-clad soldiers standing rigidly behind the Stars and Stripes and regimental and company colors on the greensward beside the Chattahoochee river. The 29th infantry band played throughout.

The President came here in one of the new secret service cars Springs, 60 miles to the north. Half an hour late in starting-at 2:30 p. m.-he was detoured over Senator and Mrs. Arthur H. Vana dirt road to save about ten miles.

This saves an employer the waste of training time and assures the employe an adequate wage from the time he or she gets a job.

Nursery School Visited. We went to Monroe and stopped for a minute at a nursery school run by WPA and where NYA girls are used as assistants. Then we proceeded to a county agricultural high school which seemed to me to have the best practical farm set-up I have seen anywhere. Georgia is largely a rural state and there is so much poverty in certain areas which might be improved by better education, that one can not help rejoicing that these young people are being given an oppor-tunity to change the agricultural life of their state. We passed schools built with the help of WPA and gymnasiums and a number of other vocational buildings and community centers built by NYA. ATLANTA, GA., MARCH 31, 1938.

TO SAFEGUARD A PUBLIC RIGHT

The United States supreme court, in its decision on the Griffin city ordinance requiring distributors of pamphlets to secure a city license, re-affirmed a fundamental tenet of human freedom. Regardless of the motives behind that ordinance, it still attempted to limit the right to disseminate printed beliefs and, thereby, was an insidious infringement of that right of free press which is basic to the American conception of liberty.

Helvetius, the French metaphysician, in paraphrasing the ideas expressed by Voltaire, wrote "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." That sentence has ever been one of the primary texts in the bibliography of free men.

Of course, there is no impairment, by this decision, of a city's right to keep its streets and the gardens of its citizens, free from unsightly litter. If leaflets or pamphlets are scattered in such a way that they add to the trash upon the streets, those responsible can be properly restrained through any ordinance or law barring a public nuisance. The supreme court decision dealt only with the right of any citizen to disseminate his views through the printed word.

The particular case which brought the Griffin ordinance to the attention of the supreme court involved a sect known as "Jehovah's Witnesses." They had attempted to distribute pamphlets about their beliefs from door to door in Griffin and were arrested for violation of the now voided ordinance.

Exactly what "Jehovah's Witnesses" believe is not pertinent to the case. Regardless of those beliefs they have, under the United States constitution, equal right with any other sect to promulgate their faith. Freedom of religion is as fundamental to all human freedom as freedom of speech and freedom of the press.

It must be remembered that the first champions of a free press were pamphleteers. The right to distribute a leaflet may seem a small matter, but infringement of that right is the first step toward a muzzling of all publications and it is incontrovertible that without a free press, liberty cannot exist.

The freedom of the press is not a perquisite of publishers. It is a supremely valuable possession of all the people and it is the people themselves who suffer when attempts are made to restrain free expression and free criticism by the printed word.

The decision of the supreme court constitutes no defense of the theories held by the "Jehovah's Witnesses." But it does defend a right of all the people which, destroyed, would carry down with it in ruins the entire edifice of human freedom in America.

There are, today, many strange and undesired theories and isms being advocated all over the world. America, by the very nature of her government, has more than her share of the fanatics who preach these queer doctrines. There is little danger, however, of any outlandish theories being accepted by any save that inevitable "lunatic fringe" of the population unless authority, by seeking to restrain their spread by force, shall provide the martyrdom which has always fertilized the oppressed cause into prominence.

Authorities who seek to restrain by law, or to suppress by force, these preachers of strange theories, are contributing more toward the success of the "causes" than all the fanatics who openly support them.

If all the "reds" and half-baked theorists and peculiar cultists were invited to bring their soap boxes and spout to their heart's content in the most public place in every city, their "causes" would die under ridicule so quickly there would be no trace of their poison left to taint the nation.

UNNECESSARY PERIL

Atlanta faces a serious problem in refusal of citizens to remain at a safe distance from disastrous fires. Firemen fighting the fire near Grady hospital Sunday night were greatly hampered by the number of persons crowding into the streets within a few feet of the flames. Not only were those people gravely endangering their own lives, but also those of the patients lying helpless in the hospital.

Shortly after the flames reddened the heavens, thousands attracted by the glare and the sirens of fire equipment massed into the streets of the immediate vicinity. Along Butler street in front of Grady hospital cars were jammed in two-deep lines. Had it become necessary to remove ill persons, valuable minutes would have been lost in clearing the streets sufficiently for ambulances to approach and leave quickly.

In the immediate fire area the problem was even greater, with policemen apparently helpless in efforts to keep bystanders in a position of safety. The public was not to be denied. The fire was a public spectacle. That many were not killed is due only to a twist of fate. Had, for instance, the elevator shaft and water tower of the transport company building collapsed, it would have brought many deaths and injuries by flying brick. Luckily, it did not collapse. Enough lives are unavoidably risked in the danger zone quelling fires of great extent or severe intensity. That firemen have to push civilians out of the way to bring a hose line to bear is inexcusable. The police department should provide sufficient manpower to keep spectators at least one block from the outer limits of the fire area and provide at least one clear street for ingress and egress of fire engines, ambulances and other emergency vehicles. Only those persons whose duty requires that they be in the danger zone should be allowed any closer. If citizens refuse to obey instructions, let them be haled into recorder's court to answer charges of disorderly conduct. Fire zones are no place for extreme courtesy to sensation-seekers.

TO ENHANCE CIVIC PRIDE

Enhancement of "civic pride" is listed among the benefits to come from Atlanta's clean-up, paint-up, plant-up, fire-prevention week beginning next Sunday, by Mrs. James R. Little, president of the Woman's Chamber of Commerce, the organization sponsoring the drive. That is the dominant note among organizations which have announced their intention to help in removing Atlanta's eye-sores and fire-traps, and in replacing them with cultivated, tin-canfree vacant lots and shiny house fronts and places where no "firebugs" can breed.

Dr. Willis A. Sutton, city school superintendent, has announced a "back-to-the-soil" movement among approximately 65,000 students in Atlanta schools. They have begun cleaning and planting vacant plots acquired by the city through non-payment of taxes and plans are being formulated for continuance of this work through the summer School children are young and the sense of civic pride is not so difficult to implant in them for the benefit of a future Atlanta. Dr. Sutton envisions the students carrying their training in civic pride to their homes.

Negro organizations will participate in next week's program, another demonstration of civic

NEW GEORGIA HIGHWAY MAP

Highway maps, as a general thing, are drab, uninteresting charts, frequently abbreviating, if not actually lacking, the very information most desired. But the new official map of the State Highway System of Georgia, of which 75,000 copies have been lithographed, is both attractive and complete.

The highways, primary and secondary, are clearly outlined and properly numbered. Every type of road is specifically designated. Correct distances are given between all junction points. Bridges, completed as well as under construction, are indicated.

Another unusual feature is the scenic map on the back giving descriptions of points of interest-invaluable to tourists. Centers of industrial and agricultural production and small maps of principal cities indicating the exact location, by number, of main highways entering the city, also are given: A complete chart of distances between Georgia points and principal cities in the southeast is included.

The State Highway Department is to be commended for designing and publishing this fine map. Every traveler or prospective traveler should own one.

Expert opinion differs as to whether the TVA's old chairman has been separated absolutely from the job. It may be no more than a Morganatic divorce.

FOOTBALL AS A GOVERNMENT FUNCTION

(From the Chicago Daily Tribune.)
Is football in a state university an essential government function? Thus far the University of Georgia and the Georgia School of Technology have sustained the contention that it is and the federal government has been unable to prove that The new solicitor general, Robert H. Jackson, has filed a brief in the supreme court asking for a decision. If the universities in playing football are not "engaged in the performance of an essential government function of the state" then the two Georgia universities owe about $5,000 on their ticket sales of 1934 as taxes to the federal collector. If football is an essential function it cannot be taxed when played on state university grounds. Huey Long made it an essential function at Louisiana

State, and led the band and the cheering section. A dissenting judge, as the case went up, pointed out that the schools do not give credit for football hours nor do they make participation in the game a prerequisite to graduation. They do, however, give scholarships to outstanding players and train graduates for coaching as a profession.

In September, October and November appearances might lead the judicial mind to the concluthat football is the supreme governmen function of the state and other universities. It is what makes higher education higher.

THE CAPITAL PARADE

By JOSEPH ALSOP AND ROBERT KINTNER.

LICENSING INTERESTS SEC WASHINGTON, March 30. The federal licensing bill of Senator William E. Borah and Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney has been stalled all winter in the dead center of the whirling controversy about anti-monopoly action. As an anti-monopoly measure, it has not satisfied the left-wing White House advisers, who desire an administration crusade against bigness. As too much of an antimonopoly measure, it has given conservatives the jitters.

Now, by a strange trick of fortune, there is a chance that it will be snatched up by the administration and converted to another purpose. The forces within the administration which have taken part in the long Pull-Devil-Pull-Baker struggle on monopoly have not yet agreed on a specific program. But the Securities and Exchange Commission is deeply interested in the Borah-O'Mahoney measure as a supplement to the Maloney bill.

This latter measure, offered by Senator Francis T. Maloney, of Connecticut, intimate crony of Chairman William O. Douglas, of the SEC, is intended to subject all over-the-counter securities dealers to the same sort of federal supervision now enjoyed (or disliked) by the member firms of the stock and commodities exchanges. In effect, it will bring the entire securities business under the SEC's control, instead of only the organized segment of the business, as at present.

The federal licensing bill is regarded as a useful supplement to the Maloney bill because it would have the same effect in the field of corporate management as the Maloney bill would have in the field of securities dealing.

TRANSFORMED BRAINCHILD As now drawn, the brainchild of Senators Borah and O'Mahoney requires all corporations doing an interstate business to take out federal licenses. Certain conditions, outlawing monopolistic practices, regulating labor problems, and the like are established as necessary to be fulfilled before a corporation can be

At present, the SEC's influence over corporations extends only to such concerns as are listed on the securities exchanges or desire to float new securities. The directing minds of the SEC see the federal licensing bill not particularly as a way of attacking monopoly or preventing bad labor practices, but simply as a means by which they may extend their influence over all corporations. The notion is that corporations desiring licenses should be made to file registration statements with them, and to supply them with the same elaborate information required of the comparatively small group of companies now in their domain.

The scheme is a logical one, and such an alteration would make the licensing bill a neat supplement to the Maloney bill, since the securities of the companies it would affect are heavily traded in the over-the-counter market.

At the same time, before Chairman Douglas and the other SEC experts who have been studying the problem get what they want, they will have Senators Borah and O'Mahoney to deal with. The leonine old Idahoan and his youthful partner are likely trifle irritable if their main purpose—anti-monopoly action—is calmly ignored. There is a definite off-chance, however, that other administration bigwigs, now quarreling about anti-monopoly will finally accept the licensing bill as a sort of next best. And then, if the measure can be jammed through a slightly irritable congress, everyone will have what he wants.

BROADEN THE BASE In his last appearance before the senate finance committee, the able under-secretary of the treasury, Roswell C. Magill, handled the broader income tax base proposal of Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, as it has always been handled by the New Deal's treasury He gave careful estimates of the productivity of an enlarged income tax mechanism, but refrained, with an equal care, from offering any open indorsement.

The spectacle was one of those which occasionally lead to a faint cynicism about the democratic process. The truth is that there is scarcely a qualified authority, radical or conservative, in administration or out, who does not privately favor the La Follette plan, with its promise of a larger income tax yield, and its important effect of making millions more of the voters conscious that they are paying for their government. Moreover, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., Mr.

Magill's boss, is a strong advocate of the La Follette proposal. In the early period of his work at the treasury, Mr. Morgenthau was leery of it, for a number of technical reasons, but now all that is

In the first place, the desperate need for higher tax revenue, occasioned by regular and continuing government expenses running at least $1,000,000,000 annually beyond tax collections, was a powerful persuader for the budget-balancing secretary. And, in the second. Mr. Morgenthau has come to believe very warmly in Senator La Follette's thesis that no government can continue stable indefinitely if the great majority of the citizens do not realize that the government expenses come out of its pockets

Of course, explanation of this puzzling situation, in which everyfavors doing something and no one but Senator La Follette tries to do it, is that this is a campaign year. Lawmakers are notoriously unwilling to ask the voters to suffer pain in the months before elections. And even Presidents have been known to be a trifle nervous about realistic but unpleasant tax plans.

"Misrepresentation" has the "deception" for ulterior motives, and we all know that no man can be a senator who is not a politician and that no politician er presents both sides of any issue in which he has an interest or commitment. The politician gives the side which he favors, and the ethics of the hard-shelled professional are such that he may even favor a side which he privately believes to be absolutely bad, lest the greater political organization of which he is a member deprive him of the right to appoint his back-home henchmen and heelers to cheap jobs for which they have no qualifications beyond a highly developed talent for sitting around

Thus deprived, he has no power to reward the heelers who serve him at election time, and therefore stands to lose his own job.

I go further and say that if any newspaper columnist of national circulation who deals with political matters were shown to have had dealings comparable, even on a small scale, to certain private activities of Joe Guffey and George Berry-to name a couple of Sen ator Byrnes' own colleagues in the most exclusive gentlemen's club in the world-he would be completely discredited, fired and forced to seek, no doubt, congenial employment in one of the propaganda dugouts of the New Deal, where his talents would be appreciated.

FAIR ENOUGH When Bandits Use Machine Guns. There Is Small Comfort In Having a Musket

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

Ordinary laymen-even the ones who speht six months in a training camp some years ago—know nothing about modern war-fare except that it is noisy and dirty and dangerous.

But militray men have learned much by watching current wars from a distance, and they seem to agree that new tools and new practices have spoiled several popular theories and revealed certain surprising facts that will change the plans of cautious countries that like to feel safe.

First, the policy of "frightfulness," which once failed to win for Germany, is not likely to be used except against the helpless. It enrages instead of terrorizing, and invites prompt retaliation. The nation that begins using poison gas or bombing civilian populations will automatically expose its people to the same horror.

Second, airplane bombs do not level great cities and kill all inhabitants. The best or worst of modern bombs, big and little, rained on Madrid for months, yet only a few thousand were killed inhabitants. and the city continued to go about its normal business Third, fast pursuit planes, on which America depends for defense, can defeat an army or infantry without assistance, but cannot protect a city or any stationary target from fast modern

Fourth, the modern tank, while effective in support of infantry, is easily picked off by the modern antitank gun. America, how ever, has no guns of this type.

Fifth, and most vitally important, the only effective defense against bombers is the new antiaircraft gun. The larger one, with an automatic contrivance to locate the enemy plane and draw a bead on it, is deadly at a height of five miles. The smaller, firing 60 times a second, uses tracer bullets like a spray to fix on the target, and its little high explosive shells spell finis when they hit,

These guns are intricate things, not built in a day. Making enough of them to defend our coasts, and training experts to operate them, would require several years. Which means that America is caught once more without the defensive weapons that experience has proved effective.

President Writes of His Dramatic Message to London Conference and Its Consequences.

ARTICLE NO. 8. President Roosevelt: On Disarmament and Peace (II).

The New Deal's policy of neutrality in 1935 and 1936, the various acts of congress of those years which made this possible and the actual application of the policy to specific international incidents are among President Roosevelt's comments tomorrow.

TURBULENT DAYS.

The world is passing through turbulent days—days that try the souls of men. Looked at from a conditions would be too much for us, but when we remember that "This is our Father's world," when we remember that "All things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purposes," when we remember that "He standeth in the shadow, keeping watch above His own"—when we remember these blessed truths -our hearts are strengthened to face life and bravely do our part. I like the thought of Tennyson, expressed in these lines:

And heated hot with burning

Jesus did not pray the Father to take His children out of the stress and storm of the world, but to keep them from the power of the evil one. We are not to run away from trouble, but we are to stand up like men and women and do what we can in God's Name to alleviate the effects of trouble and to minister to troubled hearts

ABOVE ALL A LAWYER WILL FIND HIS HIGHEST HONOR IN A DESERVED REPUTATION FOR FIDELITY TO PRIVATE TRUST AND TO PUBLIC DUTY

-From the Code of Ethics of the American Bar Association.

You Need a Lawyer

WHETHER your affairs are large or small, you need to know a capable attorney to whom you can turn for advice. And you need advice far oftener than you may think.

Selecting a lawyer is an important act, not to be approached casually. For you expect to tell him all your personal and business affairs, and you want a man who will give one hundred per cent loyalty to your interests.

It is important to know that your attorney has subscribed to the code of Bar Association ethics - a 15-page document which is summed up by the quotation on the placque illustrated above.

This is the first of a series of public messages, placed here for your information. It will give specific examples of why you need a lawyer, and how he can save you heartache and money. And you will find it helpful because it will help you to choose a counsellor to guide and guard you through the tangle of modern legal technicalities.

> THIS SERIES OF MESSAGES IS SPONSORED BY THE ATLANTA BAR ASSOCIATION

WHITE, NEGRO HOMES PLANNED IN SAVANNAH

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 30 .-(A)-Houses which will be structed under the $2,700,000 federal housing plan for Savannah will include low-cost homes for both white and negro settlements. Nothing but permanent-type homes will be built. All plans are tentative, but it is proposed to con-struct some of the houses of brick and some of reinforced concrete.

The various houses will range from units containing one bed-room, a living room, bath and room, a living room, bath and kitchen, to houses with as many as three bedrooms. In some of the larger homes a dinette will be included. The larger units will be few in number, as the purpose is to avoid overcrowding.

No central heating units will be included in the houses, due to the mildness of the climate here. However, some will have provisions for circulating heaters.

The design of the houses will be such that there will be plenty of sunlight for each room. The houses playground space for each block.

Bishop O'Hara Addresses Atlanta Catholic Laymen $38,200 | PLEDGED Student Bests' Show How They Win Honors HUSTON'S FUNERAL AT CATHOLIC DINNER

Bishop O'Hara Outlines His 7-Point Program to Laity Here.

By JACK J. SPALDING III. More than 400 Catholic laymen from the northern and western part of Georgia assembled last night at the Piedmont Driving Club at a dinner honoring Bishop Gerald P. O'Hara, of the dioces of Savannah-Atlanta, and pledged more than $38,200 to the fund being raised by the bishop for expansion of present diocesan activities in Georgia.

Added to the $34,500, raised by laymen of the eastern southern section of the state at a dinner in Sayannah Monday night, this makes more than $72,700 already pledged by Georgia Catholics.

Campaign Mapped. The two dinners were a prelude to a campaign opening Sunday, April 3, during which every adult Georgia Catholic will be urged to join the Bishop's Confraternity of the Laity, an organization devoted to the furtherance and mainte nance of religious activity in Georgia.

Parish workers of the Atlanta district will meet at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Biltmore notel, to hear an address by the bishop, preparatory to beginning the canvass of their parishes.

In an address after the dinner the bishop outlined his seven-point program, formulated in the last two years. It includes the pur-chase and maintenance of trailer chapels to serve Georgia Catholics in outlying areas, and aid for poor ission churches throughout the diocese; support for priests working in poor mission districts, and the establishment of a fund to educate Georgians for the priesthood; the extension of the parochial the religious education of children from rural districts; support of St. Mary's Orphanage for Girls; an increase in the religious, education and charitable work among negro Catholics; and strengthening of the financial position of the Catholic Laymen's Association of Georgia. Rural Life Bureau.

The bishop also spoke of a rural life bureau and credit union that he hoped eventually to found. Richard Reid, K. S. G., and Laetare medalist, read a letter he received yesterday afternoon from tee of the laity. "It is always a delight to return to Georgia, and my visit, I may assure you, is made doubly enjoy-able by the kind thoughtfulness of friends such as you and the committee in whose behalf you write. "I am glad to hear of the practical program you are initiating under Bishop O'Hara, to form a Catholic charities bureau in the diocese of Savannah-Atlanta, and to carry out other good works. It it indeed gratifying to know that your group is unwearied in the undertaking to carry light into dark places, and to bring joy into the lives of the underprivileged. Circumstances make it impera-tive that I board at a certain home which is a very unpleasant place to live. The landlady seldom addresses a remark to me and if I speak she either ignores what I say or disagrees with it. Mealtime is a nightmare. I have made it a rule not to invade her privacy and I have never complained of food or accommodations but in spite of this she is very friendly with the other businesswoman who lives here and very unfriendly with me. There's a had taste in my mouth all the time and I go to my work in an unhappy frame of mind Won't you tell me what I should do?

BUSINESSGIRL.

Answer: While it isn't exactly pleasant to sit down to the table three times a day without taking part in the conversation, it's better to keep silent than to talk and be sniped at. So my suggestion is that you treat the landlady to strict politeness and make no further effort to get into her good graces. Let her make the passes at pleas-antry, if any. She's the hostess and it's her business to be gracious to those that sit at her table and pay for their seats.

Once you make up your mind to a formal relationship with her, considering your life in her home as a business proposition rather than a social one, you won't be so upset by her attitude which is to say the least undiplomatic and discourteous.

The infants or young children are apparently little distressed by the injections—if the child does not cry in fear of the treatment, there is usually no crying during or following the treatment.

In their studies these physicians, who are not yet ready to announce their results, have found the treat-ment of inguinal hernia by the injection method satisfactory. They have treated satisfactorily one case of inguinal hernia in a baby of 18

Barbara Bell Styles

THAT POPULAR DEBUTANTE, THE GIBSON GIRL!
In Barbara Bell Pattern No.
1497-B we bring you an easy-tomake design for the most important fashion of the spring season! This full-sleeved blouse and rippling skirt really started the style for easy bloused fullness and loose, casual effects. So by all means make yourself a Gibson girl blouse and skirt. You'll revel in its flattery and you'll find the pattern very easy to follow, since a complete and detailed sew chart comes

Chiffon and georgette are the prettiest materials for the soft blouse with its full sleeves and soft rolled collar, although a very attractive summer version might be in organdy or dotted Swiss. Choose white or your favorite pastel. For the skirt, choose thin wool, flat crepe, taffeta, (which was of course very popular in Gibson girl days) or for warm weather

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1497-B is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 40. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 14 (32) requires 17-8 yards of 39-inch material for the skirt; 23-4 yards for the blouse, with long sleeves; 2 1-4 yards for a short-sleeved blouse. Price of pattern 15 cents. Do not

Janes, at the Georgian Terrace

Mrs. Janes was taken ill while abroad last summer, and had been in poor health since. She suffered a heart attack last Friday.

Funeral services and burial will held tomorrow afternoon in Millersburg, Ky., her birthplace. In addition to Mrs. Conway, Atlanta survivors are an uncle, Elisha Miller, and two cousins, Mrs. Charles F. Williams and Mrs.

URUGUAYAN COUP NIPPED BY ARRESTS

Plot Laid to Followers of Defeated Presidential Candidate.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, March 30.—(A)—A military plot to depose President Gabriel Terra and prevent his elected successor, Gen-eral Alfredo Baldomir, from taking office was thwarted with the arrest of five leading conspirators. government officials said today. General Baldomir, a brother-inlaw of President Terra, won a clean-cut victory in last Sunday's presidential election and will take office June 18.

The plot was attributed to followers of a defeated candidate, Dr. Eduardo Blanco Acevedo, who also was related to President Terra by marriage. Terra's son is married to a daughter of Blanco Acevedo.

After squelching the plot, President Terra conferred with President-Elect Baldomir and offered to take any measures he thought necessary to assure tranquility and guarantee a normal inauguration with measures President Terra already has taken and confident the situation was fully under control. Authorities arrested four army colonels and the Montevideo police chief as the main conspirators and dismissed them from their

MRS.T.W.JANES DIES Utility Averages Hold Interest As Stocks Approach Low of 1935

Chief Troubles Are High Taxes and Increasing Costs, Says Hughes.

By GEORGE T. HUGHES. (Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NEW YORK March 30 -The last bear market, the last before this one, began in September, 1929. and the railroads registered their high points. A week later, the utilities recorded their peak prices. From September, 1929, to July, 1932, the market went down, with the usual intermediate, but temporary rallies.

On July 8 of that year, the in-dustrials and the railroads touched bottom. The public utilities, on the other hand, did not make their record low until nearly three years later, March 14, 1935, to be exact.

The utilities were under pres-sure longer than the other two groups because of the position taken by the New Deal administration, culminating in the passage of the present public utility holding company act. The interesting thing now is that the utility averages on the Dow-Jones scale are about a point above their Outlook Not Hopeless. It would not do to jump to the conclusion that because the utilities are so near their old low they this week the same stocks closed at 15.18, or less than a point above their previous minimum. The cure the ones they share with all other corporate enterprises, namely, excessively high taxes and increasing costs, and the ones which are peculiar to themselves. The latter include the fact that they cannot raise rates any more than the rail-roads can and the fact that they are bedeviled by the government attitude. The best hope for them is the growing impression that this hos-tile attitude is being modified. Believe it or not, it is becoming evident even to Washington tha capital cannot be attracted to utility plant expansion unless there is me modification. The utility out-

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON. Atlanta spot cotton closed steady, middling f. o. b. 9.05.

(A)—The average price of mid-dling cotton today at 10 southern spot markets was 8.58 cents a pound. The average price for the past 30 market days was 8.96

Cotton recovered early declines today, but turned easier again toward the close as the stock market weakened. July, which had advanced from 8.56 to 8.71, closed at 8.60, with final prices unchanged to 4 points net lower.

The market opened slower under liquidation and foreign selling. There was enough resistance again at 8 1-2 cents for May to attract other support and the market turned steadier. Prices rallied to points from the lows and to net advances of 8 to 10 points on local and New Orleans buying. The acand New Orleans buying. The ac-ion of the stock market was an utstanding influence. Late offer-

Advices from various parts of the cotton belt indicated preparations for the coming crop were quite well advanced. Exports to-lay 15,687, making a total of 1,867,033 for the season thus far. Port receipts 8.005: United States Port receipts 8,005; United States port stocks 3,027,479.

You remember that day you went out to the Bois and took a basket and had a picnic? You never had told me about that. I'm sorry to tell you, but at first she didn't remember you. "Charlee," she said. "Let me see, Charlee. I theenk I remember heem." So, she went and got a box of snap shots. Say, Charlie, how many times did you have liberty? From what you told me, I thought this Charmaine lived only for you. Well, anyhow, we sorted through a lot of war pictures and at last we found yours. Gee, you looked a bit funny, Charlie. You looked young yourself and I never would have known Charmaine was the same girl. She's fat-tened up some, Charlie. Of course, I know a fellow my size shouldn't talk about that, but then I remembered how you used to tell me about this girl and say she wasn't any bigger than a minute. Well, Charlie, she's about 20 minutes now. But still a good guy. I liked her. She laughs a lot.

Where were we? Oh, yes, out in the Bois. I mean, lookat pictures out in the Bois.

HOUSTON, Texas, March 30.-(A)-Bobby Riggs, of Chicago, and Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, of Atlanta, seeded one, two in the River Oaks tennis tournament, came from behind today to enter the quarter-finals. Young Warren Christiner, of Austin, Texas, gave Grant a lot of trouble and rangy Bob Kamrath, of Austin, University of Texas netter, had Riggs, the nation's second ranking player, on the ragged edge during the first set.

Grant got off to a bad start and hristiner took a 4-2 lead.
Finally the Georgian steadied
Wycoff Beaten and managed to even the score only to have Christiner win the next game. Grant finally squared the game at five-all and then went on to win the first set, 7-5, and the second, 8-6. In the second set Grant, thrice winner of this tournament, took a > school system yesterday disclosed term. divergent views on fiscal policy on ilton, but no definite plan for paying the state's 21,016 teachers after March 15.

School Finances Remain Muddled, BROTHER 'AGHAST But Rivers Stands Pat on Program

LAUDED BY TRAYLOR No Definite Plan Devised for Paying State's 21,016 Teachers After March 15, Despite Conference With Treasurer Hamilton on Budget Setup.

Collins conferred during the day department officials said this was without apparent success.

The Governor issued a statement defending the plan of setting the schools' budget at 100 per recorded use of an anesthetic in surgery.

Discussing "excited talk" concerning state medicine, Dr. Traylor said the Medical Association of Georgia persuaded the recent of the original $9.256,000 appropriation and pledging to do propriation and ple

He later men-tioned the stabilization fund—an exist at the close of the fiscal year emergency "pool" created by a deficit in the operation of the tithe of 10 per cent on all non-state government, and under the allocated revenues—from which law as passed by the general as-he hopes to gain enough money sembly, the actual revenues of general funds become the legislative appropriation available to any department operating under a fixed sum appropriation to be paid from the general fund."

Other departments drawing from the general fund set up their budgets on expectation of actually receiving 74 per cent of the amount appropriated. The schools estimated their income at 100 per cent of the appropriation.

However, Hamilton insisted, "it was not and is not my intention to criticize policies adopted by any department in its operation."

Figures released by Hamilton yesterday disclosed the schools had received from the general fund $6,152,531 or 66.5 per cent of their appropriation, plus $865,483, or 9.5 per cent additional from the stabilization fund. Approximate-ly $696,908—enough to pay sal-aries for about 15 days—would bring the figure to 74 per cent the maximum the schools are en-titled to receive unless tax reve-

WELFARE SETUP IN STATE ASSAILED

Hugh Howell, Gubernatorial Candidate, Hits 'High' Overhead of Department

NEWNAN, Ga., March 30.—(A) Hugh Howell, of Atlanta, declared today in a speech "the time has come in Georgia when we have got to stop making a political football out of our old people." Howell, former chairman of the state Democratic executive comnittee, yesterday announced his candidacy for Governor.

In a talk before the Newnan Kiwanis Club he assailed the State Department of Public Welfare as being "s. swamped with red tape and overhead, high rent and high salaries paid to welfare workers that there is no money left for old age pensions."

State Welfare Director Lamas Murdaugh, asked in Atlanta if he wished to reply to Howell's state-ments, said: "No comment."

Howell said here "let's adopt the Hugh Howell plan, which provides for cutting out the overhead and sending one check to each ounty, and put all our needy eligibl: people on the pension roll and pay them something while they are living."

> Senate Approves Compromise, 70-7, and Sends Measure to the House.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, March 30 .-The senate today passed, 70 to 7, the Ashurst-Hatch omnibus federal judgeship Lill containing provision for a "roving" federal jurist in Georgia. The judge will be eligible to serve in each of the three judicial districts of the state. The bill was sent to the house. Although Senator Russell, of Georgia, sought a new northeastern Georgia district, he said his next preference was a "roving"

Representative Robert Ramspeck, of Atlanta, who last ses-sion obtained house approval of his bill providing an additional judge in the northern district, said that when the Ashurst-Hatch bill was considered by the lower chamber he would urge the substitution of his bill.

Recently, the house judiciary committee reported out a companion bill to the senate measure, which carried out the recommendations of the Atlanta member.
